Congress of the United States House of Representatives

January 12, 2012

RE: United States Cycling Monument

It gives me great pleasure to support the United States Cycling Monument, a landmark installation to be erected in North Boulder Park in Boulder, Colorado.

The U.S. Cycling Monument is a public art sculpture that will celebrate the international sport of cycling and commemorate the legendary Red Zinger/Coors Classic Race that is recognized as the birthplace of American professional cycling. Many athletes have made Boulder, CO home as a result of the inspiration that the Red Zinger/Coors Classic Race provided. Our community continues to make significant contributions to the international cycling community and the installation of the U.S. Cycling Monument will further identify cycling as an integral part of Boulder's cultural identity.

The U.S. Cycling Monument will be a place to learn about Boulder's historic role in cycling, to remember the great achievements of American cyclists and to inspire future generations. Furthermore, I hope that it will stand as encouragement to get more people on bikes and continue the progress that makes Boulder one of the healthiest cities in the country.

As a member of the Congressional Bike Caucus, I urge others to get involved and show their support for this grand gesture to the history of U.S. cycling.

Sincerely,

Jared Polis
Member of Congress
